How long have you been involved in Regnum Christi mission work?

By Virtue of Being Human

By Kelly Suter

This is the second letter in a series from Regnum Christi member Kelly Suter about her nursing work with Ebola patients in West Africa. Her first letter was published on the Regnum Christi website.

Dear Family and Friends,

Today is my first day off. While I appreciate this time, it is basically the equivalent of being under house arrest here in Liberia. There is no place to go in the county of Bong, and even the small markets that exist pose a threat as Ebola is so rampant in this area. I have already fixed the toilet and shower drain, “MacGyvered” some curtains in the bathroom, put a bed together so my roommate isn’t sleeping on a mattress on the floor, hung some laundry lines and washed all of my laundry.

Where are you?

By Christiane Esser

“When they heard the sound of the Lord God moving about in the garden at the breezy time of the day, the man and his wife hid themselves from the Lord God among the trees of the garden. The Lord God then called to the man and asked him, ‘Where are you?’” (Genesis 3: 8-9)

stream of suffering, evil, or simply put – just bad news. All too often we want to cry out, “Lord, where you?” But, actually, God is the one who is asking the question – it is the first question He ever asked our human history, and He still asks it. “Where are YOU?”

The not-so-happy dance

By Jim Fair

Pride goes before disaster, and a haughty spirit before a fall. Proverbs 16:18

Every so often I say something that seems to hint at what the future holds. I don't think this is because I'm a gifted seer, but if you offer enough advice, well, something is bound to materialize.

For me, fishing is much the same. I'm not especially skilled, but I enjoy it. And by casting a line hundreds of times I eventually make contact with a fish or annoy one enough to take a bite at my lure.

But I digress.

Tombstones

By Fr Simon Devereux LC

"What does it cost us to say: "My God help me! Have mercy on me!" Is there anything easier than that?"
Alphonsus Liguori

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ, cemeteries are really quiet! Last week I was looking for a silent place to pray while I was out and about in Cheshire and I found this old cemetery. There were tombstones from 1799. The grey and dirtied stones made reading the inscriptions difficult.

Spiritual Virginity

By Kelly Luttinen

To the pure all things are pure... (Tit 1:15)

Quoted in segment #5 of John Paul II's 57th Wednesday Audience entitled "The Pauline Doctrine of Purity of Life According to the Spirit" given on March 18, 1981, beginning our late pope's catechesis on the Theology of the Body.
