National Regnum Christi Men's Triduums of Renewal in Spanish and English

A weekend of silence and prayer

Between work, commute and family life, it's a challenge for most men to make time to recollect and listen for the voice of God. However, the value of that time is clear: Christ himself went away often to a mountain or a desert to pray.

Pirate Themed Father-Daughter Day

Hosted by Northwoods Catholic School in Spring, Texas

The day began with Mass, celebrated by Fr. Michael Vanderbeek, LC, and his homily was centered on the importance of having Christ as your greatest treasure. He exhorted his audience of pirates to learn from each other how to love and share Christ's love with others.

7 Models of Youth Ministry

By Br. Lucio Boccacci, LC

Engineering helps one understand processes and structures that begin with raw materials and seek to produce specific products. Though I left engineering to follow God's call to the priesthood, later when I started youth ministry I couldn't help but notice engineering principles also in youth work. I began quickly to see youth ministry as a process of evangelization that spanned all the stages of youth: childhood, adolescence, young adulthood. In order to be successful, youth workers would need to rely both on grace and nature throughout this whole process. Grace is always provided for, thanks to Jesus' sacrifice on the cross and the Church's teaching and sacraments. However, "nature" is our contribution.

What really matters

By Fr Michael Sliney LC

"When it comes to life the critical thing is whether you take things for granted or take them with gratitude." -- G.K. Chesterton

During one of our mission trips to Mexico, our bus load of boys and dads stopped by a roadside house to use their two outhouses in the field. They used newspaper for toilet paper, their "house" was a shack with a dirt floor and flimsy cots as beds, and corn tortillas seemed to be the staple dish. But the three Mexican girls and their mom and dad had bright smiles on their faces and a deep peace in their hearts. They told me that they went to Mass every Sunday, prayed and truly valued their time together as a family. Faith and family are such huge gifts and I encourage all of the parents out there to make this the priority as well.

Only a statue?

By Jim Fair

Ernie Banks died Friday night. For those of you not immersed in Chicago culture and who may not know of Ernie, he was Chicago's most famous sports hero before Michael Jordan.

I Dare You

By Jennifer Malneritch

It was perfect: a beautiful green hardcover journal decorated with paisleys. To top it off, right in the center, written in beautiful script, was the word "Delight." Having an artistic bent means details like that are important, but sometimes they also pose a problem. What would I use the journal for? It couldn't just be something ordinary because it wasn't just an ordinary journal.

Thanks mom!

By Fr Michael Sliney LC

"Compassion begins at home, and it is not how much we do but how much love we put in that action. Do not think that love has to be extraordinary. What we need is to love without getting tired." -- Blessed Mother Teresa

In spite of the migraine headaches, the frequent pneumonia and bad colds, a full time teaching job and 4 kids at home (my sister being in a wheel chair)...my mom did not get frustrated or give up. She gave 100% of herself, making flower arrangements/dinners and even paintings for the sick and suffering, bringing constant joy to my siblings and dad with her good sense of humor and great cooking, and above all her warm smile of love that came from daily Mass, regular Confession and a deep love for our Blessed Mother. Thanks mom!!
